

Importance of network segmentation in OT security

1 Protection of critical systems

Network segmentation isolates critical systems and sensitive data, making it more difficult for attackers to access critical assets.

2 Containment of breaches

It helps contain cyber threats to a limited area, preventing them from spreading across the entire OT environment and thus minimizing damage.

3 Enhanced security controls

Security policies and controls can be customized to the specific needs and risks of each network segment, enhancing overall security.

Change human cyber security behavior with security[®] quotient.

Singapore | India | Malaysia